DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' amendment filed on 8/16/04 has been entered. Claims 1-8 and 10-11 are pending in the present application.

Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Terminal Disclaimer

The terminal disclaimer filed on 8/16/04 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of US Patent 6,083,925 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

The terminal disclaimer filed on 8/16/04 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of US Patent 6,648,613 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Response to Amendment

The Declaration filed on 8/16/04 under 37 CFR 1.131 is sufficient to overcome the Li et al. (J. Exp. Med. 188:681-688, 1998) reference.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejections of record are withdrawn in light of the submission of the terminal disclaimers filed on 8/16/04.

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is still defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

Non-initialed and/or non-dated alterations have been made to the oath or declaration (see change in the Post Office Address of Mary E. Ewasyshyn). See 37 CFR 1.52(c).

Written Description

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. This is a new ground of rejection.

Vas-Cath Inc. v. Mahurkar, 19USPQ2d 1111 (Fed. Cir. 1991), clearly states that "applicant must convey with reasonable clarity to those skilled in the art that, as of the filing date sought, he or she was in possession of the invention. The invention is, for purposes of the 'written description' inquiry, whatever is now claimed." Vas-Cath Inc. v. Mahurkar, 19USPQ2d at 1117. The specification does not "clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [he or she] invented what is claimed." Vas-Cath Inc. v. Mahurkar, 19USPQ2d at 1116.

Applicant's invention is drawn to a plasmid vector for in vivo administration to a host for the generation in the host of a protective immune response to RSV F protein, wherein said plasmid vector comprises any second nucleotide sequence to enhance the immunoprotective ability of said RSV F protein.

Apart from disclosing an enhancement sequence comprising a pair of splice sites adjacent to the RSV F protein encoding nucleotide sequence, the instant specification fails to teach which essential core structures or elements of any other enhancement sequences that prevent aberrant mRNA splicing during transcription and translation or enhance the immunoprotective ability of the expressed RSV F protein. Nor does the instant specification teach a representative number of species for a broad genus of a second nucleotide sequence that enhances the immunoprotective ability of the expressed RSV F protein as claimed.

The claimed invention as a whole is not adequately described if the claims require essential or critical elements which are not adequately described in the specification and which are not conventional in the art as of Applicants' filing date. Possession may be shown by actual reduction to practice, clear depiction of the invention in a detailed drawing, or by describing the invention with sufficient relevant identifying characteristics such that a person skilled in the art would recognize that the inventor had possession of the claimed invention. Pfaff v. Wells Electronics, Inc., 48 USPQ2d 1641, 1646 (1998). The skilled artisan cannot envision the detailed structure of a broad genus of a plasmid vector including any second nucleotide sequence that enhances the immunoprotective ability of expressed RSV F protein as claimed, other than a plasmid vector containing an enhancement sequence comprising a pair of splice sites adjacent to the RSV F protein encoding nucleotide sequence. Adequate written description requires more than a mere statement that it is part of the invention and reference to a potential method of isolating it. See Fiers v. Revel, 25 USPQ2d 1601, 1606 (Fed. Cir. 1993) and Amgen Inc. v. Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. Ltd., 18 USPQ2d 1016 (Fed. Cir. 1991). One cannot describe what one has not conceived. See Fiddes v. Baird, 30 USPQ2d 1481, 1483.

Applicant is reminded that Vas-Cath makes clear that the written description provision of 35 U.S.C. §112 is severable from its enablement provision (see page 1115).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. This is a new ground of rejection.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "said nucleotide sequence encodes a RSV F protein fragment" in lines 1-2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. In claim 1 from which claim 3 is dependent, a nucleotide sequence encoding a respiratory syncytial virus fusion (RSV F) protein lacking an autologous RSV F signal peptide sequence is recited, and not a RSV F protein fragment. The metes and bounds of the claims are not clearly determined.

Claim 7 recites the limitation "said first nucleotide sequence" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. There is no recitation of any first nucleotide sequence in any of the claims 6, 5 and 1 from which claim 7 is dependent. The metes and bounds of the claims are not clearly determined.

Conclusions

Claims 1, 2, 4 and 10-11 are allowed.
